Newsletter 2nd November 2018

We have received 275 responses to our parent survey which are listed on the last page. We are really pleased to see that you are as proud of our school as us, with 99% of you who would recommend the academy. Key issues that were raised were around communication regarding curriculum, bullying and homework.

Curriculum—Just to remind you annual curriculum overviews and termly curriculum newsletters are available on the website, curriculum workshops run throughout the year, curriculum updates are shared through our fortnightly newsletter, parents consultations including data trackers are held twice a year, ANP review meetings for SEND children are held twice a year and an annual written report is issued at the end of the year. Daily communication is face to face with teachers in Reception and KS1 and staff are available for messages at drop off in KS2. If you would like to speak to your child's teacher directly please speak to them at the end of the day or contact the academy office.

Bullying—There were 12% of you that have concerns around bullying. We work hard to ensure that all children feel safe in school at all times. We will investigate this further through pupil voice as our bullying logs do not collaborate with your concerns and will review our Anti-Bullying policy and work with the children throughout Anti-Bullying week (12th-16th November) and feedback to you.

Homework—Responses were very mixed from parents regarding homework with some of you saying there was too much and some who believe there is too little. The new Home Learning Policy is currently being reviewed by staff and governors and will be issued in January.

If you would like to discuss any of the concerns that were raised further we will be holding a parent forum with our Headteacher and Chair of Governors on Wednesday 7th November between 8.30-10am. If you would like a 10 minute appointment please contact Mrs Lewis to book this.
